B. Indicate compliance with the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare’s (DHEW) “Policy on Protection of Human Subjects” (q.v.).

2. Research projects will not be demeaning to seminary students.

3. Research projects and/or methods will not be contrary to the doctrinal, ethical, or moral position of the Seminary.

4. Only requests from schools holding regional or professional accreditation will be considered.

5. Care will be taken to see that the Seminary as an institution and/or the student will not be overburdened by such requests. Priority will be given to requests from MABTS students.

Protection of Human Rights

The Policy on Protection of Human Subjects, adopted by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, calls for:

1. A statement describing the risks to the subject;
2. A statement of the expected benefits from the research to the subjects and to the advancement of knowledge, as well as supportive arguments that the benefits justify the risks;
3. Verification that the rights and welfare of subjects, especially their anonymity, will be adequately protected; and
4. A complete statement illustrating the method to be used for obtaining written consent of each subject, which will include:
   A. A fair explanation of the procedures followed and their purposes, including identification of any procedures that are experimental;
   B. A description of any attendant discomforts and risks reasonably to be expected;
   C. A description of any benefits reasonably to be expected;
D. An offer to answer any inquiries concerning the procedures; and

E. An instruction that the person is free to withdraw his or her consent and to discontinue his or her participation in the project or activity at any time without prejudice to the subject.

Solicitation

It is the policy of MABTS that no sales representative of any kind be allowed to solicit business among the student body on campus or student housing. Furthermore, it is the policy of MABTS that no list of student names or addresses is made available to such individuals for off-campus solicitation. If such a person or sales representative feels that his or her product or service is so worthy that exception should be made to the above stated policy, he or she may apply in writing for permission to present said product on the campus. Such an application should be very specific in stating why it is felt an exception should be made and should be submitted to the office of the director of Campus Life. It should be recognized that any exception to the established policy is just that (an exception) and does not constitute any endorsement of the product or service on the part of the committee or the Seminary administration.

Educational Rights and Privacy

MABTS is subject to federal legislation popularly known as the Buckley Amendment, establishing rights and duties with respect to the education records of students attending MABTS. It is our intention to fully comply with this legislation and to protect the rights of students. These rights include the right to (1) inspect and review the student’s records, (2) request an amendment to the student’s records to ensure that they are correct and otherwise not in violation of the student’s right to privacy; (3) consent to the disclosure of information to other individuals or entities, (4) file a complaint with the OCR
