2015-2016
“To all the world for Jesus’ sake . . .”

Practical Missions Ministry

Mid-America Baptist Theological Seminary’s (MABTS) heartbeat is for the inerrant Word of God, missions, and evangelism. Reaching people for Christ was the basis upon which the school was founded, and this passion motivates the president, the faculty, the curriculum, and even the chapel programs. Your presence here at Mid-America indicates that you share this motivation. The Practical Missions office is here to assist you by providing opportunities for engaging in missions and evangelism and helping students to fulfill the requirements of the Practical Missions Ministry.

As you serve the Lord by ministry and personal soul-winning, you will not only bring glory to Him by touching the lives of many people, but you will also be preparing yourself for your future ministry If God has brought you here, He is already preparing the hearts of people to whom you will witness so that you can fulfill these requirements. Whether you feel the call of God to the local church ministry, the mission field, or some other type of ministry, you will benefit by developing your skills in witnessing and service. Further, churches and mission boards seek out Mid-America graduates because they have practical experience in ministry and a passion for souls.

If you have questions about practical missions or if you encounter situations with which you need advice or assistance, please call us at 901-751-3011. Our joy in serving the Lord Jesus is increased by serving you. May God bless you.

In Christ,
R. Kirk Kilpatrick, Ph.D.
Director, Practical Missions
A Brief Description of the Practical Missions Ministry

Practical Missions is the demonstration of what the student learns in the classroom. Students are expected to fulfill the biblical command to witness and thus are required to meet mission assignments each week, share their faith, and report on the work completed. By witnessing regularly and engaging in missions ministries, the student connects the classroom and the practical aspects of ministry and evangelism.

Practical Missions involves three specific opportunities and responsibilities for Mid-America students:

1. Practical Missions Ministry Service:
   Each full-time student (4-5 courses in a regular semester) must complete two hours in a mission assignment per week during the semester. Each part-time student must complete one hour in a mission assignment per week during the semester. A mission assignment consists of approximately one or two hours of ministry time and normally provides the student with the opportunity to present the type of witness described in section 2. PLEASE NOTE THE SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS ON PAGES 2-5.

2. Personal Witness Activities:
   Each student is expected to witness personally to at least fifteen persons during each fifteen week semester. Ideally, the student will witness at least once a week. To constitute a personal witness, the student will present the plan of salvation to a person believed to be unsaved and invite that person to receive Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior. Students are encouraged to train others in witnessing as well. If someone who the student is discipling completes a Gospel witness, in the presence of the student, then that witness can be counted as one of the student’s fifteen for the semester. Witnessing activities are also reported through the Practical Missions online report system. (For a good start in your witnessing, read the article by Dr. B. Gray Allison on page 8.)

3. Report Hour Participation:
   Each student is expected to participate in the Report Hour and chapel on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 11:00 a.m. at the Cordova campus each week. At the Cordova Campus, the student is to scan his/her student ID card at the entrance to register his/her attendance at Report Hour. The Report Hour begins with the singing of the Alma Mater and prayer, followed by the sharing of witness opportunities. Participants have a wonderful opportunity to share their witnessing activities of the previous week. Students who cannot attend Report Hour must have an exemption form signed by the Director of Practical Missions. Report Hour attendance must be reported online through the Practical Missions reporting system. Online reporting is the primary means by which the practical missions office registers a student’s attendance.

REQUIREMENTS FOR PRACTICAL MISSIONS (Masters/Associates/Special Students)

1. Practical Missions:
   Practical Missions takes place in a local church or through an approved mission site. The Practical Missions office provides a list of approved mission sites at the end of this handbook. Places of service other than those on this list must be approved in advance by the Director of Practical Missions.

   Registration: You register for your Practical Missions when you register for each semester of school. Steps:

   1. Your service as a church pastor or staff member no longer counts as an assignment unless you go out and do evangelism weekly.
   2. For your assignment, choose from the list at the end of this handbook or, if you wish, you may request an alternative near your home. These requests should be presented in writing and be approved in advance.

3. Contact the ministry coordinator to determine if you are eligible and if this ministry suits your needs.

4. Complete the Practical Missions Registration portion on SonisWeb in order to register for classes.

Ministry Sites: Each ministry assignment should consist of approximately 2 hours of ministry time in duration on the field (not counting commuting to or from the field). Ministry activities lasting three hours or more in a day are counted as two hours. No activity may count as more than two Practical Missions hours per week in fulfillment of basic requirements.

Reporting: All work should be reported weekly through the online system. See page 13 for instructions.

Requirements: Full-time students: One Mission hour per week in Your chosen mission assignment. Extra missions may count for no more than eight hours of the thirty hours required assignments in your registered mission.

Part-time: One Mission Assignment per week for a total of 15 assignments per semester. At least 11 of these must be at the specific site in which the student is registered.

First-year Students: The first-year full-time student is to participate in one evangelistic ministry through the local church and one non-church related ministry. The first-year part-time student is to participate in one evangelistic ministry through the local church or community. During their first semester, students are only required to meet requirements for 14 of the 15 weeks.
MINI-TERMS & SUMMER SCHOOL: During these sessions, all students are required to witness to at least one person during the session and report through the online report system. Students enrolled in Mini-Term classes are required to witness to at least four persons and participate in one evangelistic ministry through the local church or non-church related ministry for a total of four weeks. If a student is enrolled in the March Mini-Term as well as the spring semester, he is only required to witness to at least two persons and participate in one evangelistic ministry through the local church or non-church related ministry for a total of two weeks.

FAILURE TO REPORT PRACTICAL MISSIONS BY THE DATES OUTLINED ON PAGE 16 WILL RESULT IN AUTOMATIC ACADEMIC PROBATION.

2. Personal Witnessing:
All students must witness to an average of at least one person per week during each semester for a total of 15 witnesses per semester. A personal witness includes a presentation of the plan of salvation to a person believed to be unsaved and an invitation for that person to receive Jesus Christ as Lord and Savior.

Distribution of tracts, preaching a sermon or general visitation of church members will not satisfy this requirement.

You should make every attempt to witness to persons on an individual basis, although you will occasionally witness to a small group. You should use the Word of God in witnessing. If possible, arrange for persons accepting Christ to be followed up by a local church. If you do not personally put the new Christian in touch with a local church, you should turn in a “Witness Follow-up Card” to the Practical Missions Office for forwarding to a local church.

Reporting: You must report your witnessing activities weekly through the Practical Missions reporting system. See page 13.
3. Report Hour:

All students are required to attend Report Hour each Tuesday and Thursday at 11:00 a.m. (Cordova campus) at the regular chapel time. The Report Hour is an opportunity for the seminary family to share about witnessing activities and for you to share your own experiences in witnessing. Students unable to attend Report Hour due to a schedule conflict with essential outside work responsibilities must obtain a Chapel Exemption Request form from the Practical Missions Office and submit it for approval. Only after obtaining an approval of this request may the student be exempt. Exemptions may be granted to those who have only afternoon classes later than 11:30 a.m. Students are not allowed more than six unexcused absences from Report Hour during each semester unless they have an approved exemption.

Participation in Report Hour must be reported weekly through the online Practical Missions reporting system. See page 13.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

No academic credit is given for the Practical Missions requirements. However, no academic credit is given to any student for the semester if he or she does not satisfy the minimal requirements for the Practical Missions Program. In addition to losing academic credit, students failing to complete these requirements are subject to probation or dismissal by action of the faculty.

In addition, any student who does not complete and log in his or her practical missions correctly each semester may be placed on “practical missions probation” for the next semester. FINAL ACCEPTABLE DATE for reporting the completion of practical missions hours each semester will be 4:00 p.m. on the third business day following the last exam day. Graduates must report 14 weeks work no later than Monday before graduation. See page 16 for the exact deadlines for the 2015-2016 year.
TESTIMONIES FROM REPORT HOUR

What a joy to watch a new student during his first report hour. “I remember when I came to Mid-America, I had led one person to Christ my whole life. I was scared to death at the notion I had to witness to one a week to get my grades. Then, I went into report hour and heard the testimonies and got excited. My ears had never heard anything like what I heard in chapel. God has changed my life through this school.”

“I witnessed to four people this past week and sadly none of them received Christ. I wish you would pray for a young man named John. He is 22 years old, is already an alcoholic, separated from his wife and he is really struggling with his decision about Christ.”

“This last week I had the privilege to witness to dozens of people. Witnesses just came in over and over again. But the one thing that stood out was an opportunity I had to go to the rescue mission. I saw 14 saved. And we had a revival kind of come down. Wednesday night, we had a big, packed group, and God allowed me to share the Gospel and God seemed to make it clear. Some men were weeping, and there was some real repentance, I believe, taking place. There were over a half dozen men saved just that night.”

Testimonies like these are an example of what report hour is like. As of May 2015, our students have led 162,524 people to Christ while attending school. Praise the Lord! Only the Lord knows how many souls have been saved since our students have left the Seminary. Currently MABTS has over 70 mission-points in the Mid-South area. Jails, apartment complexes, hospitals, youth detention centers, and the Inner City Outreach Center are only a sample of the practical missions opportunities.
Common Misperceptions

Q. “Do I just have to get in my 15 witnesses or 30 Practical Missions hours before the last day?”
A. Do you just want to get by or develop skills and habits that will benefit you for a lifetime? Witnessing weekly will reach people for Christ, provide you with countless blessings, and keep you from scurrying around at the last minute during exam week!

Q. “Do I have to witness to 15 different people per semester?”
A. Not necessarily. You may witness to the same person several times during a 15 week semester, but each witness should be a complete witness in accordance with catalog specifications.

Q. “If I preach, do I get a witness for Practical Missions?”
A. No. However, you may have the opportunity to witness one-on-one during the invitation counseling, which would constitute a “witness.”

Q. “Can I sign up for what sounds good and then do whatever I want as my practical mission?”
A. You must complete at least 75% of your Practical Missions Assignments in the practical mission for which you registered. If a legitimate emergency occurs that prevents your continuing in the activity for which you registered, you should contact the Director of Practical Missions to change to another location.

Q. “Do I only have to complete 75% of my practical missions?”
A. You must complete all of your practical missions (30 for a full-time student and 15 for a part-time student, plus witnesses and report hours.).

Q. “If I preach a revival this semester, will that count for all my practical missions for the semester?”
A. No. A revival (visitation, preaching, etc.) may count as no more than two Practical Mission Assignments per day, and then only as an “extra” mission.

Remember, you must complete 75% of your assignments in the activity for which you registered.
How does one make an approach to a lost person so that you can use the Word of God and witness? It cannot be said too often that there is no substitute for the use of the written Word of God in witnessing. This truth does not mean that the Bible is a charm or something magic, but it does something to a person to see written down in God’s Word the truth about himself, his need, what can be done about it, and how to do it. So, use a Bible or a New Testament in witnessing. How does one begin the interview to witness to a lost person?

There is a good method which has proved successful. It works with a person whom you know well or a person you have never seen before. Start a casual conversation. Talk about something pleasant. Get on a friendly basis but do not let the conversation stay casual. You can start anywhere in any conversation and use four simple things. One, have you been thinking much about spiritual things? It does not matter what you are talking about you can just start. Whatever he answers you can go immediately to the second thing. What would you say is a person’s greatest spiritual need? Whatever he says you can go immediately to the third thing. The Bible says that it is a salvation experience. Have you had a definite experience with Christ sometime in the past? Notice what was said. Have you had a definite experience with Christ sometime in the past? Now suppose he says “yes” to that question, what would you say? Tell me about it! I like to hear people tell about what Jesus has done for them. If he answers “no” or does not say yes, then say, “May I talk with you about this for a few minutes?” Start right then. Go to the Scripture and talk with him.

Another way to begin is to ask: “Have you come to the place in your life that you know for certain that if you died today you would go to Heaven?” If he says yes, ask him how he knows.
If the answer is not clear, ask, “May I show you what the Bible says?” If his answer is “no,” ask: “May I show you what the Bible says?”

Another approach that really opens the door is to ask the person, “Have you ever been to a doctor? If you go to the doctor and are not well, what does he do? First, he tries to find out what is wrong with you. When he finds out what is wrong with you, he prescribes medicine for you. He tells you what to take and how to take it. This is what God does in the Bible. He tells us what is wrong with every one of us. He tells us what to do about it, He tells us how to do it, but He never makes us do it. It is up to us to do the thing which will make us right with Him. May I show you what God says is wrong with every one of us?” Then go immediately to the Scripture. I would suggest that you mark your Testament or Bible so that you can turn immediately to the Scriptures. Let me suggest an outline of the plan of salvation:

The first verse is Romans 3:10, “As it is written, there is none righteous, no, not one.” Nobody is perfect. Go to the second verse, Romans 3:23, “For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God.” The word all means every person in the world has sinned. Talk with this person about specific sins. For instance, have you ever told a lie? Have you ever stolen anything? Did you always obey your parents? Questions like that to make him realize that he personally has sinned against God. Then turn to the third verse and tell him that God says sin does something to us. Isaiah 59:2, “But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you, that He will not hear.” So iniquities; that is warped, twisted, crooked things, or sin, separates us from God. It will keep us separated forever unless it is taken away. You may illustrate this by putting a piece of paper between your fingers and saying this piece of paper separates my fingers from each other. How can my fingers get together? They can get together only if the thing which separates them is removed. Sin separates you from God and you cannot get to God until the sin which separates you from God is removed. Sadly, we cannot remove our own sins.
The next verse is Romans 6:23 which says, “The wages of sin is death...” Sin has a payday. One day sin will pay off and it will pay off in death, spiritual death, eternal separation from God. So that is what sin does. But God has done something for us that we cannot do for ourselves. John 3:16, “For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.” You can make that personal. Where it says the “world,” put his name in there. Where it says “whosoever,” put his name in there. It means that God so loved this particular person that he sent Jesus to die for his sins.

Just tell him that if you go to the doctor and he tells you what is wrong and tells you the remedy, but does not tell you how to take the remedy, that is not enough. For God to tell us that sin separates us from God and will keep us separated forever unless it is taken away, and that Jesus is the one who can take away sins through his death on the cross is not enough. We must know how to have Jesus in our lives.

The next Scripture is Acts 20:20-21. Paul wrote, “And how I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have showed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house, testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Jesus Christ.” Explain to him that repentance means a change of mind that leads to a change of direction. So a person must realize he has sinned, that he is moving away from God, and willingly, deliberately, knowing what he is doing choose to turn from sin and turn to God. When he does this he runs into that wall of sin which he has created between himself and God. Demonstrate that with that paper between the fingers. Then tell him that the second thing is faith. Faith means commitment. A person commits himself to Jesus Christ the Lord. That is, he gives his life to Jesus so that it is never his again and so that he is never the ruler of it again. He makes Jesus Christ Lord of his life to be Lord forever, and then Jesus takes away the sin.
This is the place to draw the net and ask the person if he realizes he has sinned against God, if he understands what sin does, if he desires to turn from sin and give his heart and life to Jesus Christ. Then you may lead him in a prayer to God.

You surely do not want to leave him without explaining to him what he needs to do after he has committed his life to Christ. I suggest that you use the little tract that the Seminary has, “God Wants You To Know.” On the back of it are six things that a person should do after he has trusted Christ. If you go through these with him and get him to agree to do these six things, he will be off to a good start in his Christian life.

Doctor of Philosophy

Practical Missions Requirements

Doctor of Philosophy students are classified as full-time students during all phases of the Ph.D. program. The Ph.D. student must complete two hours practical missions per week and witness to an average of at least one person per week during each 15-week semester. He must attend Tuesday and Thursday Report Hour in Chapel with no more than six unexcused absences during the 15-week period unless exemption was granted for permission to be absent due to schedule/work conflicts.

All students are required to remain current in their practical missions requirements. No academic credit is given for seminar work during any semester the student fails to complete this requirement. Forms are available in the Ph.D. office for students taking seminars to request permission from the Ph.D. Committee to be absent from Tuesday Report time and other special chapel sessions. This option is only available to students unable to be on campus for Tuesday/Thursday Report Hour each week. Regardless of permission to be absent from Tuesday Report Hour, the student must continue to submit weekly practical mission reports to the Practical Missions office through the online reporting system.
Students working on dissertations do not have to be on campus and do not have to petition the Ph.D. Committee for permission to be absent from Tuesday Report Hour. Practical Missions Assignments must still be reported weekly to the Practical Missions office. Failure to remain current will result in action from the Ph.D. Committee and possible dismissal from the program. (From the Ph.D. Handbook, page 9)

Doctor of Ministry

Practical Missions Requirements

Each student enrolled at Mid-America Baptist Theological Seminary must meet Practical Missions requirements. Practical missions for a seminar begin 30 days prior to, and extend until the date that the post-seminar paper or project is submitted to the Doctor of Ministry Office. Each Doctor of Ministry student is required to witness to an average of one person per week.

Credit for any seminar or Major Ministry Project will be given only when the student maintains practical missions requirements. On the first day of each seminar, each student will be provided with a practical missions report form. This form must be submitted with the post-seminar paper. In the event of a seminar presentation, the form must be submitted during the week the student is attending the seminar. The practical missions report for the Major Ministry Project or Ministry Research Project is due at the time of final submission.

Although the student must maintain continuous enrollment in the program, he is only required to turn in practical missions reports during seminar enrollment.

The time span for each seminar is usually sixteen to eighteen weeks (This time period includes pre-session reading, the one-week on-campus intensive session, and the post-session paper or project). The time span for the Major Ministry Project may last from four to twelve months.
All questions concerning practical missions for D. Min. students should be directed to the Doctor of Ministry office.
(From the Doctor of Ministry Handbook, pages 8-9.)

The Practical Missions Reporting System

The Practical Missions Report Form is completed via the Internet each week. Reports are downloaded on Mondays. If you do not have Internet access at your home or church, you may use the Seminary computer lab. It is your responsibility to report your practical missions through this system. Be sure to keep a hard copy of your weekly PM activities as a back-up.

HOW TO REPORT:

1) Scan the student ID card at the chapel entrance to register your attendance at Report Hour
2) Using the Internet, go to www.mabts.edu
3) Click on “Practical Missions Report.” You should see: “Practical Missions Report Login Page”
4) Enter Username (your Student ID number) and Password (last four numbers of your social security number) [Note: International students who do not have social security numbers will receive a password from the Practical Missions Office at the beginning of their seminary studies.] Once you log in, you will be taken to the Report Form.
5) Complete the electronic Report Form [Note: Report only once for each week per semester.] Use only whole numbers. No decimals or fractions. Report Practical Missions hours. (M1 is mission hour one and M2 is mission hour 2 in the practical mission site). Report Witnesses, Report Hour attendance, and results of ministry (professions of faith, lessons taught, sermons preached, etc.)
6) Click “Submit” then be sure to LOG OFF from the website and the Internet. If you do not log off, your submission will not be saved in the computer.

7) Please provide yourself with a hardcopy backup in case of the inevitable computer bugs. If for any reason you cannot use the Internet method of reporting, please contact the Practical Missions Office for assistance.

Practical Mission Categories:

All Practical Mission should be chosen by the student with a view for it being a platform for personal evangelism. The following list indicates the categories of practical missions activities from which student assignments may be chosen. Additional categories may be added from time to time, and special assignments may be arranged with the permission of the Director of Practical Missions.

CHURCH-ORIENTED CATEGORIES:

1. Vocational Staff Positions. These assignments include the regular weekly evangelism ministries and responsibilities associated with paid church staff positions such as: Pastor, Minister of Education, Minister of Music, Minister of Youth, Minister of Outreach, or various combination staff ministries.

2. Intern Programs. These opportunities include the following: evangelism, witnessing, visitation and follow-up work, and various approved church internship programs.

Note: Merely teaching a Sunday School class, decision counseling and other similar volunteer church activities do not fulfill the ideals of a practical missions activity. However, if you teach a Sunday School or discipleship class AND you also participate in a weekly program of evangelistic visitation related to your class, you may count this program as an approved practical missions assignment.

TIPS FOR HAVING A GOOD PRACTICAL MISSIONS EXPERIENCE

- Contact the site supervisor to inquire as to whether you may serve at that ministry.
- Make an appointment to meet the supervisor. Be on time. Look nice.
- Ask questions. Be sure you understand and can agree to the responsibilities.
- Learn your job.
- Be faithful to be there when you are supposed to be there . . . Do not take the people at the ministry for granted. Just because you are a volunteer does not mean that you can go or not go whenever it suits you.
- Be a good witness for the Lord and a good ambassador for Mid-America.
- Be nice, polite and Christ-like in spirit.
- Do a good job.
- Look for opportunities to witness.
- Say “thank you” to those with whom you are working and those to whom you are ministering.
- Be sure to report your practical missions each week. If you need to change practical missions, notify the practical missions office for permission and then be sure you talk to the site coordinator or supervisor. Don’t just leave a place . . . remember, others must follow you.
Practical Missions Final Due Dates
2015 - 2016 School year

In order to receive academic credit for each semester of the 2015-2016 school year, each student’s practical missions requirements (including missions hours, witnesses, and report hour attendance) must be completed and logged in correctly by the following dates:

Cordova Campus
First Semester: Monday, December 21, 2015, 4 p.m.
(Graduates: Friday, December 4, 2015, 4 p.m.)
Second Semester: Monday, May 23, 2016, 4 p.m.
(Graduates: Friday, May 13, 2016, 4 p.m.)

PRACTICAL MISSIONS APPROVED-SITE CATEGORIES:

It is your responsibility to call the contact person at the PM site for which you register. Only that person has the authority to approve you to serve at that ministry. If you do not see a ministry that suits your needs, you may apply to have another agency or ministry approved. The ministry needs to provide an evangelistic opportunity for the student as well as an opportunity for meaningful service. The student should provide a letter from the prospective agency listing what will be done, where, when and who will supervise and submit it to the Practical Missions Office for approval.
